

Sustainable Seafood Coalition

Terms of Reference

Name

Sustainable Seafood Coalition (SSC).

Vision and aims

The SSC's vision is that all seafood sold is from sustainable sources.

The SSC aims are:

1. To publish the SSC Codes of Conduct which reflect good practice and latest developments in sourcing and labelling practices, for implementation by all members.
2. To support members to effectively implement their commitments to the SSC Codes of Conduct, through provision of guidance, capacity building and knowledge sharing.
3. To participate in advocacy and engagement activities to influence wider changes in policy and practices relevant to the SSC Codes of Conduct.
4. To provide a forum for collaboration, innovation, and development of consistent approaches across the industry on themes related to sustainable seafood.

Voluntary Codes of Conduct

The SSC has developed two Codes of Conduct, which apply to all own-brand fish and seafood:

1. Voluntary Code of Conduct on Environmentally Responsible Fish and Seafood Sourcing (the "Sourcing Code")
2. Voluntary Code of Conduct on Environmental Claims (the "Labelling Code")

The SSC has produced a document to help members implement these two Codes (the "Guidance").

The Codes and Guidance will be reviewed as part of a biannual review process at a minimum and where necessary amended. The current versions will be made available on the SSC website. Members are encouraged to check the SSC website on a regular basis to ensure they understand the SSC Terms of Reference that apply at that time.

Membership requirements

- Written commitment to the SSC Terms of Reference.
- Written permission to use company logos on the SSC website and press releases as per any SSC Guidelines (see below, Confidentiality and communications).
- Timebound implementation and adherence to the SSC Sourcing and Labelling Codes within 12 months of becoming a Full member of the SSC (see below) or the publication of updated SSC Codes. New members must provide a written commitment to this timebound implementation at the start of their SSC membership. The SSC Codes are voluntary. They represent a move towards best practice and are not legally binding. However, members are required to implement and adhere to the Codes as a condition of membership.

- A complete, timely response to data and information requests for the biennial Implementation Report as part of the accountability mechanism.
- Written commitment to positively engage in pre-competitive collaborative action, adhere to competition law, maintain the confidentiality of discussions, and positively represent the SSC externally.
- Annual payment of SSC membership fees, according to the annual turnover bands in Annex 1.

Compliance

In instances where one or more of the requirements is not met by a member, the following process will be followed:

Any member not meeting membership requirements may be required to meet a member of the Steering Group to discuss the non-compliance.

Participation commitment

- The SSC members will meet at a minimum on an annual basis, and all members are expected to make reasonable efforts to attend in person meetings.
- All SSC members are eligible to join Working Groups and all Full SSC members are eligible to join the Steering Group (subject to categories of membership outlined below).
- Should a member volunteer to participate in a Working Group or the Steering Group they will be required to commit to the Terms of Reference and level of participation outlined by those Groups.
- Members may be invited to attend other meetings to represent the Coalition.

Membership

- The founding members of the SSC were ClientEarth, Icelandic UK, Waitrose, Marks and Spencer, Young's, BirdsEye, Fish4Ever and FishFight.
- Membership is only open to businesses associated with seafood and fish (once they have satisfied the relevant membership conditions), or organisations that represent these businesses. This is because only fish and seafood businesses can actively implement the SSC Codes.
- Initially SSC members were from across the UK seafood industry. The SSC extended its membership to European and international fish and seafood businesses in 2022.
- Subsequent membership may be sought from other sectors of the seafood industry including, but not limited to manufacturers, suppliers and brands that use seafood (e.g., fish feed, fish farm, pet feed and agricultural businesses). ## Governance structure and decision making - The SSC Steering Group, which has its own Terms of Reference, takes decisions on strategic issues and the prioritisation of projects substantially affecting the core structure of the SSC. It has a filtering role in relation to decisions for the full membership base and proposals from members. Steering Group decisions are made by consensus. The exception to this is for communications and advocacy decisions based on a pre-agreed external position, which are made by non-objection.

- The full membership base makes decisions by non-objection, consensus, and/or majority vote as appropriate.
- The Secretariat is the final decision maker on operational issues. In terms of suggestions both strategic and otherwise, there is an open channel with all other groups within the SSC and the Secretariat has an advisory and facilitation role.
- For decisions or proposals in Working Groups consensus should be achieved amongst all the participants.

- The governance structure may be reviewed and amended by members in the future (Annex 3).

Any such activities and the funding that will be required for them will be set out in separate agreements between the Secretariat and the SSC or a member, as the case may be. Where the Secretariat agrees to undertake any consultancy activities, it will be providing such services with reasonable skill and care and on the basis of its expertise and understanding of the SSC Codes and the SSC's objectives. Any advice or services provided by the Secretariat will not be replace any legal or regulatory advice; and the SSC or its members are solely liable for the conclusions it draws from the use and receipt of the consultancy services.

- Working Group members are required to actively listen and participate and be committed to reviewing and carrying out tasks in a timely manner.
- Non-member experts will be invited to contribute to discussions and share their expertise. Where appropriate, the Secretariat will provide the SSC members with an analysis of the relevance of those experts, and where agreed by members, will invite those indicated in an advisory capacity.
- Non-member participants of Working Groups only have the capacity to contribute to reports or proposals made within the relevant Working Group meetings.
- Each Working Group should have a member who acts as Chair. The role of the Chair is to chair the meetings, agree the agenda and actions with the Secretariat, ensure all voices are heard, facilitate progress, and communicate support needs to the Secretariat.

This includes publication of SSC minutes and news articles, new member announcements, factual updates on members' sustainability-related activities or other relevant news stories. Posts of a promotional nature (of either a product or member) that does not relate to the SSC vision and aims will not be authorised. Tagging the SSC's social media accounts by members on their business or personal accounts is authorised, providing the above guidelines are strictly followed. Members are encouraged to share ideas for website or social media content with the Secretariat.

- The SSC should be given recognition if non-members use SSC materials. Where this has been brought to the attention of the SSC, the Secretariat is responsible for requesting this.
- The Secretariat is authorised to use a high-resolution copy of each member's company logo for immediate use on the SSC website and in relation to any communications containing statements of fact. Any other use of members' own logos is subject to agreement from the relevant member.
- Statements of fact, for example the announcement of new members of the Coalition, may be delegated to the Secretariat, providing they do not relate to a specific current member and they are unlikely to impact on a member's reputation. In the latter cases, any affected member will be consulted first.
- All media interaction on behalf of the SSC will be undertaken by the Secretariat, subject to any competition law requirements and unless it relates to a specific member. Any member may also veto the involvement of the SSC 'brand' in that advocacy activity. Abstention will be taken to mean an 'opt-out' decision for that business.
- The use of specific members' logos in any advocacy activity will need to be explicitly authorised by those members.
